Pass Lodges Hold Joint Installation

The officers of Bellevue and Coleman I. O. O. F. and Rebekah lodges were installed in joint ceremonies at Bellevue on Monday night. The gathering was one of the largest in the history of Odd-fellowship in Southern Alberta. Besides the members of Coleman, Blairmore and the local lodge, over forty Oddfellows and Rebekahs from Corbin, Fernie and Michel were in attendance.

The Rebekahs' meeting was called to order at 8:30 by the noble grand of Ray of Hope Rebekah Lodge No. 96, Mrs. Albert Hallworth. Following the regular order of business, the gravel was placed in the hands of Mrs. Alex Morency, of Blairmore, district deputy grand president for Coleman and Bellevue, and the full staff of officers of both lodges were duly and regularly installed.

Coleman: Mrs. Nerriman P.N.G., Mrs. Hallworth, Mrs. Rogers N.G., Mrs. Jepson, Mrs. Burns V.G., Mrs. Bradley, Mrs. Stokes R. Sec., Mrs. Maclean, Mrs. Beart Warden, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Muir conductor, Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. Dunlop R.S.N.G., Mrs. Blake, Mrs. Lousbury L.S.N.G., Mrs. Padgett, Mrs. Hadfield R.S.V.G., Mrs. Noble, Mrs. Hopkins L.S.V.G., Mrs. Christie, John Hadfield O.G., James Cousens W.J. Burns I.G., Mrs. Prescott, Mrs. Houghton chaplain, Mrs. Harrison.

The I. O. O. F. meeting commenced at 8:30, when the noble grand of Bellevue Lodge No. 118, Bro. George Christie, called the meeting to order. The district deputy, Bro. W. J. Bartlett, of Blairmore, was assisted by past grand from Corbin, Fernie, Michel, Coleman and Bellevue lodges.

Following the installation, which ceremony lasted about an hour, refreshments were served and a programme of speeches and music was rendered. A principal feature of the programme was the presentation of a junior past grand's collar to the retiring noble grand, Bro. Christie, of Bellevue lodge. This duty devolved upon Major W. B. Burnett, of Lethbridge, deputy grand master of the grand lodge of Alberta. Bro. Burnett's remarks were brief and inspiring. Before the close, the meeting was addressed by the deputy grand master, who spoke at considerable length of our duty as Oddfellows and the importance of living up to the principles of the Order.

On Thursday evening the officers of Cowley and Pincher Creek lodges were installed, as follows:

Local Rescue Team Fleets With Success

Blairmore's mine rescue challengers for the shield offered for the provincial contest, left here the early part of last week by auto for Drumheller, where they took part in the big contest on Thursday and Friday. The local team comprised W. H. Chappell, junior, Allan Hamilton, Jack McAndrew, Marshall Hamilton, Bob Patterson and Ed. Royle. Ten teams competed, with the following results:

1. Drumheller Land Co. 407 points
2. Coalhurst 385
3. Blairmore 386
4. Hi-Grade, Drumheller 377
5. Brazeau Collieries, Nordegg 372
6. W. C. C. Co., Bellevue 357
7. Monarch, Drumheller 295
8. Maple Leaf, Drumheller 295
9. A. L. G. Mine, Drumheller 263
10. Bankhead 261

The Blairmore boys returned to town on Sunday morning, bringing with them gold engraved rings such and a team cheque for thirty dollars. They speak in the highest terms of the treatment accorded them by the officials in charge of affairs at Drumheller.

In the first aid competition the Bellevue team won fourth place, and the standing of the teams competing is as follows:

1. Coleman Team No 1 88%
2. Coleman Team No 2 78%
3. Coalhurst Team 65%
4. Bellevue Team 62%
5. Nordegg Team 59%

Forest Reserve Streams Closed to the Anglers

Owing to the restrictions placed by the Dominion forestry department on fishing in streams in the various reserves, it is anticipated that there will be a considerably less number of campers this year, according to local officials. It is quite possible that a thorough survey will be made of the different streams this year with a view to ascertaining which of them should be closed, instead of putting into force the blanket restriction which at present applies. As matters stand at present, fishing this year will only be permitted in the Bow, Elbow, Red Deer and Highwood rivers. All other streams both inside and outside the reserves, have been temporarily closed. A breach of this order carries a penalty of $100. Every effort is being made this year to minimize the risk of forest fires, and in this connection it is expected that an aerial patrol will be in operation within a month's time. Major Croft, of Sunnyside, H. C., who will be in charge of this work, will make Morley his headquarters. Six aeroplanes will be put in service, two of them being held in reserve.

It has not been decided whether bombs will be used in extinguishing any conflagration. This matter, however, is at the present time receiving the attention of the department.—Calgary Herald.

Change in Postal Rates

According to an amendment to the Post Office Act passed during the recent session of Parliament, the Registration Fee on letters and other matter mailed in Canada is fixed at ten (10c) cents per each letter or article.

The above fee shall apply to all registered mail matter posted in Canada on and after the 15th July, 1920.

The public are advised in order that they may see that all registered matter is fully prepaid as regards both postage and registration fee.

A Correction

To The Editor
Blairmore Enterprise
Dear Sir:—In your issue of July 1st, in reporting the last regular meeting of the school trustees, you quoted me as voting against the resolution authorizing the purchase of three sets of maps, because they were incomplete, while the reason I gave for voting against the resolution was that they were paper maps, instead of the usual canvas maps, and I considered that paper maps should not be bought for use in a public school.

Thanking you for the correction, I remain,

Yours truly,

Our Duty to Canada

In this column last week, using the celebration of Dominion Day as a text, reference was made to the bright, even glorious, future before this country, provided the Canadian people, probing by the lessons and experience of the past, threw themselves with sincerity and downright honesty of purpose and vigorous effort into the inspiring task of cultivating a true national spirit based on a Christian tolerance, a broad sympathy, and a real desire to understand one another, coupled with an enlightened and progressive policy of development of the Dominion's great wealth of natural resources.

The more one studies Canada's position among the nations today in the light of the world's requirements of those things which Canada can supply, the more does one become enthusiastically optimistic over this country's future. The realization of true national greatness, however, rests with the people themselves rather than in the extent of our fertile fields, the hidden wealth of our mines, the great stretchings of our forests, or the breeding millions of fish in our lakes, rivers and along our sea coasts. These are but the means, the tools ready to hand. Their development for use depends upon the character, the intelligence, the energy of the Canadian people.

In turn, the standard of Canadian manhood and womanhood depends upon the moral character of our people, individually and collectively; upon their educational training and attainments; upon their physical fitness, strength and general well-being from the standpoint of health; in a word, upon their conception of what life really is, and what things are worth while, permanent, and leading to something better and greater.

Not to moralize at too great length, the question may well be asked: Has the average Canadian seriously questioned himself as to his personal duty and responsibility to Canada? Or is the average Canadian so busy looking out for Number One that he gives little thought to what he owes to his country and fellow citizens?

These thoughts are suggested by a brief news item appearing recently in the daily press reporting the conviction of a prominent physician in Ontario for attempting to evade the Federal Income Tax. This man, in receipt of an average income of $11,000 a year for the past three years, made returns to the government indicating an income of less than 25 percent of the sum actually received. This man, no doubt, would never dream of burglarizing his neighbor's house, or cheating his friends, nevertheless he sought to rob his fellow citizens by attempting to defraud the treasury of Canada.

This man lacked the national spirit which will make Canada strong and great. He apparently thought it was all right to cheat the government, which is merely another way of saying, cheating Canada. And the thought should be asked: Are there not many more people who through complete evasion of the Income Tax, or the making of incomplete returns, or by embezzling, and in various other ways, defraud Canada who would hesitate to steal a five-cent piece from a neighbor?

It may be that, as individuals, we disapprove of customs tariffs, income and luxury taxes, and other methods through which the national revenue is raised, and it is our legitimate right to agitate and educate for reforms in taxation, but so long as the methods in vogue are the law of the land, it is the duty of every loyal citizen to abide by and observe those laws. It is just as dishonest to rob the public treasury as it is to rob a bank or a store.

Refusal to obey the laws of the land, no matter how unpopular they may be, or how much opposed to them any individual citizen may be, is evidence of a lack of that national spirit through which alone any country can be elevated to a high plane. The citizen who himself seeks to dodge his national obligations has no just cause for complaint against the dishonest member of parliament or government official, nor should he object to the profligate acts of others, when he is attempting to profligate himself at the expense of his country, that is, at the expense of his friends, neighbors and all fellow citizens. His crime is only different in degree, not in principle.

Until the individual conscience is aroused, the national conscience must remain asleep and the national spirit dead. No government and no country can be better than the people from which a government springs and who themselves are the country. If national honesty is at a low ebb, our national resources will be made the plaything of exploiters and modern buccannery for personal gain, rather than be development for the use of the people and the enrichment and glory of the nation.

Much is said about this reform and that reform to promote Canada's welfare and progress, but the basic reform, from which alone these others develop, calling for individual consideration, is our attitude of mind towards Canada itself.

GUARD BABY'S HEALTH IN THE SUMMER

The summer months are the most dangerous to children. The complaints of that season, which are cholera, infantum, colic, diarrhoea, and dysentery, come on so quickly that often a little one is beyond aid before the mother realizes he is ill. The mother must be on her guard to prevent these troubles, or if they do come on suddenly to banish them. No other medicine is of such aid to mothers during hot weather as is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the stomach and bowels and are absolutely safe. Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Canada's Universities

Sir Arthur Shipley Prizes Training Provided in Canada

When we are so dissatisfied with our general educational system in this country, it is a reason for some measure of gratification to observe our more advanced system lauded by educationalists of the Mother Country. The Royal Colonial Institute in London was informed at a recent meeting by Sir Arthur Shipley that Canada was better off in the matter of universities than Great Britain. He pointed out that this country has more universities than there are in all Great Britain. He gave high praise to the thorough training provided in Canadian universities. Training in medicine "abreast of the best on the European continent," Sir Arthur said, was given in McGill and Toronto Universities. In veterinary science, too, Canada was in some ways in advance of the Old Country. In law, applying to the study of the law, our universities, he said, were "comparable well." An important thing was that university education cost less in Canada than in Britain.—Ottawa Journal.

An Odd Ship

Frenchman Has Invented Vessel in Which Power Plant Is Detachable

As odd a ship as one is likely to meet at sea is described as the invention of a French maritime expert seeking a means for lowering the cost of transporting cargoes. Hitherto a ship and the power plant that made it move have been regarded as one and inseparable, and while the cargo is being taken on or discharged, the power equipment necessarily lies idle. And so this ingenious Frenchman, says Popular Mechanics magazine, has invented a new kind of vessel in which the power plant is detachable, and having temporarily finished its work for one cargo can then busy itself with another. As this new ship is put together, the cargo-carrying section, naturally much the larger part of it, ends with a V-shaped indentation, much like the indentation which the grocer makes in a new cheese when he cuts a pound for his customer, and the bow of the section that carries the power plant fits into this space as neatly as the customer's purchase, providing the grocer has a good eye for a pound, would fit back into the cheese.

Air Force Association

Notice is given in the Canada Gazette of the incorporation of the Canadian Air Force Association, the object of which, it is stated, "is to promote the efficiency and advance the interest of the Canadian Air Force and to assume such other objects of administration of this force as may be authorized by the Governor-in-Council. The following are incorporated as the association: Hon. Hugh Guthrie, minister of militia; Col. O. M. Briggs, vice-minister of the air; board; Sir Willoughby Gwatkin, major-gen. Robert Leckie, D.S.O., lieutenant-col. James Stanley Scott, and Edward Deville.

The operations of the association are to be carried on under the supervision of the department of militia, the capital throughout the Dominion, the chief office to be at Ottawa.

The crowning property of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is that it can be used internally for all complaints as well as externally. For sore throat, croup, whooping cough, pain in the chest, colic and many kindred ailments it has curative qualities that are unsurpassed. A bottle of it costs little and there is no loss in always having it at hand.

Maintain Permanent Force

Not Intended For Aggression, But Purely For Military Defence

When introducing the estimates for the militia, amounting to $12,500,000, the Hon. Hugh Guthrie, minister of militia and defence, showed that the permanent military force in Canada had not been greatly increased. In 1913-14, the year before the war, the permanent force, all ranks, amounted to 2,906, while today it totalled 3,555. The increase in estimates was due to the increased cost of maintenance, which was 80 or 90 percent higher than it was before the war.

The government, Mr. Guthrie declared, had under consideration the reduction of the number of military districts, which now numbered 11. The military establishment planned was 110 infantry regiments, 75 artillery, and new batteries of machine guns. The machine guns would form a new branch. Canada had turned over to Great Britain the supplies she did not require and had taken the guns that were needed here. While the number of units would be increased, there would not be more than 80,000 men against that of a pre-war strength of 10,000. The maintenance of the military force was necessary. "It was not intended for aggression," he said, "but was purely as a defence of our own shores."

The chief problem facing his department, Mr. Guthrie declared, was that of barracks. With the exception of Winnipeg, every military district lacked adequate barracks. Soldiers must be housed, and he was going to propose that one way of raising the necessary money to do this was by the disposal of the various properties held by the Department of Militia and Defence. Altogether these were worth from $3,500,000 to $4,500,000.

Sir Sam Hughes, former minister of militia, urged that the policy of Sir Wilfrid Laurier should be adopted, which was that every man should be ready to take up a rifle in defence of his country.

Wonderful Remedy Establishes Regularity, Cures Constipation

As you value life itself, never use medicine that racks the system. Constipation is bad enough, but violent cathartics are the limit. When the bowels are constipated and you have stomach trouble and headache, try Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they are so mild you can scarcely feel their action, yet so effective that the entire secretory apparatus is stimulated to healthy action. Hamilton's Pills move the bowels gently.

They tone the liver and kidneys. Stomach troubles cease. Bilious turns are prevented. Dr. Hamilton's Pills are more than a Curement for the act of a system cleaner and general tonic. For those who feel dull, heavy, and morose, for those who suffer frequently from colds, biliousness and stomach disorders, there is no better medicine.

You risk nothing in using Dr. Hamilton's Pills because they are guaranteed. Made according to the formula of one of the greatest physicians that ever lived, Dr. Hamilton's Pills are bound to give you system just the aid it requires. Sold by all dealers, 25c per box.

Flax Fibre Valuable

Manitoba Product Sales at $1,800 Per Ton

Flax fibre, grown and manufactured in Manitoba is selling for $1,800 per ton on the open market in Belgium. This information, which was given out yesterday by J. H. Evans, deputy minister of agriculture, was received by the government from L. D. Fortyn, managing director of the Canadian Flax Company, and Netherlands Flax Company, with head office for Canada in Winnipeg.

Mr. Fortyn, in his letter addressed to the department and dated June 10, stated: "You will be interested to hear that the flax fibre manufactured at our Beausjour plant fetches at price on the open market in Belgium of 90 cents per pound, or $1,800 per ton. From this must be deducted the freight charges from Beausjour to Antwerp, amounting to $110 per ton.—Manitoba Free Press."

Britain's Navy to Stay Ahead

Admiralty Chief Says England Will Extend Ship Program to Excel U.S. Fleet

That England is keeping a vigilant eye on the growth of the American navy, and supremacy of the seas, developed in the course of a debate on the British House of Commons. However, the American navy will be permitted to equal Great Britain's even if it should become necessary for Great Britain largely to increase her naval estimates.

Lieutenant-Colonel Frederick Hall asked the first lord of the admiralty, Walter Long, what would be the number of capital ships mounting 16 inch guns respectively in the British and American navies in 1925, on the assumption that the present naval program of the two countries was adhered to. He also asked as to the capital ships which would be able to make a speed of thirty and three-quarter knots an hour.

Mr. Long replied that the admiralty was following America's program with the greatest closeness and they would not fail to ask parliament for necessary powers if they should think Britain was falling behind the United States.

Placing a Ladder

Just when is a ladder safe, both for the man working on it and the people walking under or near it? Safety News has worked out a diagram indicating that the angle of 75 degrees offers the maximum of safety. An easy way to secure this angle is to find the length of the ladder, and then place the ladder feet one-fourth that distance away from the vertical support it leans against. This angle prevents undue strain or slipping, and yet gives the workman at the top of the ladder sufficient foot-room.

Great Waste

In a single year unscientific loading, accidental damage and the tremendous cost of packing add more than $700,000,000 to the cost of food, clothing and other necessities. Unused space in freight cars costs $200,000,000 and hauling half-empty cars more than 6,000,000 miles costs the railways $12,000,000. Damage and theft cost $100,000,000 and lumber that is wasted after being used once in packing cases costs $240,000,000. It is estimated that from a tenth to a quarter of the cost of foodstuffs goes to pay for losses that are thrown away instead of being used a second time.—Youth's Companion.

Almost 2,000,000 barrels of oil are lost annually through the burning of wells.

HEART SO BAD WAS NOT SAFE TO LEAVE HER ALONE

Miss Eva P. Yatenam, Krugersdorf, Ont., writes: "I feel that I have received from Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, about four years ago, a great deal of relief from my heart, nerves and jaundice, and I am now able to get about as usual. I doctored with two different doctors and seemed to get better, although the jaundice and nerves would not leave me. I would take such terrible falls, wherever I was, that I was not safe to leave me alone, any time. At last I decided to resort to proprietary medicines and took several different kinds, but seemed to receive but little benefit from them. One day noticing the advertisement of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I decided to try them, and before I had taken more than two boxes I could see they were helping me. I have taken about ten bottles, and am almost cured of those terrible falls, and my nerves are now leaving me. I would like to tell you my experience, and I advise any one troubled with heart or nerve troubles to try them, as I feel they will find relief."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are sold by all dealers or mail direct on receipt of price by The L. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Writing Up the Wedding

As the society editor might write it—but won't. The bridegroom who was dressed in a rich creation of black, unfinished worsted, tastefully shaped in cutaway form with a V-shaped neck to show the sparkling lines of collar, the pique of shirt, the undoubted elegance of cravat and the foamy cream of vest, also wore a beautiful shade of grey trousers and well-fitting black shoes. He carried a hat of carefully ironed black silk, and was marked by a general air of apprehension. The bride was gowned in conventional white, carried flowers and wore a veil.

Auto Strop Razor - sharpens itself

ALL safety razors seem alike because of the similarity in size and appearance. As regards the Auto Strop Razor, however, the resemblance ends there. Its peculiar and additional advantage is that, without being larger than any other safety razor, it combines within itself a self-stropping feature that enables the user to keep the blade sharp without taking anything apart. It thus prevents dull blades and the expense of buying new ones.

You may not be interested in economy of blades, but surely you are interested in safety and that is only possible with a stropped blade.

New National Party Outlines Its Policy For Tariff Revision

Ottawa.—The policy of the new national party, founded at the Unionist caucus, is as follows:

"Firm adherence to British connection in full confidence that Canada will find its truest scope for development, usefulness and influence as a member of the British Commonwealth with the status of a self-governing nation equal to that of the other members; the maintenance of the autonomy of Canada and its existing rights and powers of self-government; the approval of the principle that no treaty, understanding or commitment which may involve the empire ought to be undertaken except after consultation and by common consent in the common interests."

Approval of Canada's membership in the League of Nations and a firm decision to maintain our recognized status as a member of the league; the upholding by every means within the federal power of constituted authority throughout the Dominion; the maintenance of parliamentary control over all legislation respect for the rights and powers of the provinces."

The adoption of such measures as are necessary to maintain and protect the ideals of Canadian citizenship and co-operation with the provinces in their efforts to Canadianize alien immigrants; the fostering of a Canadian as opposed to any class or sectional spirit and the elimination of all prejudices that tend to retard or destroy national unity and undeveloped."

Practical application of the principle that parliament and government exist to make and administer the laws for all the people and not for any particular class or section to the detriment of the nation as a whole the carrying out of policies that are nationwide in their application or effect and that look forward to the growth and development of the whole of Canada and the prosperity and happiness of all its people."

A thorough revision of the tariff with a view to the adoption of such reasonable measures as are necessary:

- (a) A system providing adequate revenues.
- (b) To stabilize legitimate industries.
- (c) To encourage the establishment of industries essential to the development of the nation.
- (d) To develop to the fullest extent our natural resources.
- (e) To prevent the abuse of the tariff for the exploitation of the consumer.
- (f) To safeguard the interests of the Canadian people in the existing world struggle for commercial and industrial supremacy.

"As a means of raising revenue the tariff should be so adjusted as to place the chief burden upon those best able to bear it. Articles of luxury should be heavily taxed through the imposition of customs and excise rates. Food commodities and other necessities of life should, if manufactured in Canada, should, if taxed at all, bear only such imposts as are necessary for revenue purposes. Those produced in Canada should be subjected to such customs duties only as may be necessary in the general interest to be determined after strict investigation from time to time."

Many Harvesters Needed

Planning Way and Means to Secure 50,000 Men to Garner Crop

Winnipeg.—Fifty thousand farm laborers will be required to harvest the 1920 crop of the prairie provinces, it was stated by J. A. Maharg, provincial commissioner of colonization. He estimated that Manitoba required 15,000; Saskatchewan, 20,000 and Alberta, 15,000.

On July 10 railway officials and members of the immigration and colonization will meet to discuss matters for the importation of these laborers.

Italy Not Sending Troops to Albania

Rome.—During a debate on the Albanian situation in the chamber, Socialists demanded withdrawal of Italian troops. Premier Giolitti, in replying, said that the government were not sending troops to Albania and reminded the chamber that when he was last premier he had urged that Albania ought to be completely independent and had done his best to secure the formation of a stable government.

Grain Growers to Hold Conferences

Meetings Will Be Addressed by J. A. Maharg, M.P., and J. B. Musselman

Regina.—An important series of Grain Growers' meetings has been scheduled for district No. 2, which will be addressed by J. A. Maharg, M.P., and J. B. Musselman. The first will be held at Willowton on Tuesday, July 20, commencing at 2 o'clock. Another meeting will be held in the evening at the village of Willow Bunch, commencing at 7.30.

On the following day, Wednesday, July 21, there will be a conference of all the locals of the district who are interested, to discuss the proposed routes for the extension of the Canadian National railway from Benbow; which will be followed by a public meeting the same evening, which will also be addressed by J. A. Maharg and J. B. Musselman.

Link Up Empire by Wireless

Imperial Telegraphy Committee Urge Establishment of Big System

London.—The Imperial wireless telegraphy committee recommends the establishment of a system of wireless throughout the Empire. Two wireless chains are outlined in the report, one to Australia with intermediate stations. A similar communication with Canada must be established but this can only be done after the conference has estimated the cost, which will be about one million and a quarter pounds. Marconi proposals were rejected chiefly on account of the prohibitive cost and as creating undesirable monopolies.

For Imperial Veterans

Organizing in Interests of Imperial Men Taking Up Residence Here

Ottawa.—A complete ocean-to-ocean organization to care for the discharged soldiers of the British army who have taken up residence in Canada is being planned by the Imperial Veterans' Association of Canada. Major T. B. Thomas of Vancouver, Dominion president and organizer, and James C. Berg of Winnipeg, Dominion solicitor of the imperial veterans, are in Ottawa and will confer with the federal cabinet before going east to organize branches.

Major Thomas said his association was growing with every boat arriving from the old country and that the organization planned to solve the problem of the imperial soldier wherever possible.

Await Spa Conference

London.—Premier Lloyd George has stated in the house that he did not propose to make a further statement on the Boulogne conference until after the meeting at Spa had been held.

Answering six questions about Mesopotamia, the premier said consideration must be given to rights existing before the war, and the interests of the Arab states must be safeguarded.

Sinn Fein Delegate Visits Vatican Rome.—Sean O'Ceallaigh, diplomatic delegate extraordinary of the government of the Irish "republic," was received in private audience by Pope Benedict.

It was authoritatively stated that O'Ceallaigh was received by the pontiff only in his private capacity. O'Ceallaigh approved this statement, saying he had no wish to embarrass the Vatican.

More German Nerve

Paris.—Konstantin Eehrenbach, German chancellor, will insist at the Spa conference upon the maintenance of a German army of 200,000 men, the restitution of territories now occupied by Allied troops and deduction of the continued occupation from the amount of reparations due, according to a Berlin despatch to the Petit Parisien.

Southern China Seizes Fortress

Honolulu.—Troops of south China have captured Yuan Chow, a stronghold of the north China forces, after several days of severe fighting, according to a special cable from Tokyo.

NORRIS SECURES LARGEST VOTE IN MANITOBA

Farmers and Independents May Organize Into Single Group

Winnipeg.—The results of the Manitoba elections would indicate that the large single group which will sit in the next legislature will be the followers of the Norris Government. With two deferred elections, the Fox and Rupert's Land, and the results of the proportional representation vote in Winnipeg not yet announced, the standing is as follows: Government, 17 seats; Farmers, 9 seats; Labor, 7 seats; Conservatives, 6 seats; Independents, 4 seats.

The presence in the field of numerous farmers and independents, provided the four-cornered contest, which upset the calculations of the experts. It is regarded as certain that in essentials of his policy, Premier Norris could count upon the support of a considerable number of those candidates who were elected, and political statisticians are inclined to think that an agreement upon the various minority groups to upset the government is not among the probabilities.

Labor will present the second strongest group in next legislature, outnumbering the Conservatives, but according to latest returns, have lost their leader, R. G. Willis, in Turf Mountain. Apparently it is possible for the independents and farmers who will have seats in the house, to organize into a distinct group, which would be able to hold the balance of power, but in this connection, it is claimed by the Liberals, that at least three men in this number, Little, of Beauport; Phin, of McKinnel; of Rockwood, and Emmond, of Swan River, are counted upon to give the Norris government a legislature.

The Manitoba general report normally meets in January, and it is pointed out that, lacking intervention by the lieutenant-governor, there is no reason why the government should not carry on in the meantime and while the house is in session, settle its immediate fate by a vote of confidence. Doubtless the interval would be marked by nothing which might be expected to result in a definite alignment of the smaller groups for or against the government. The strategic position of the Norris forces is strengthened, it is pointed out, by the fact that the members of the government were elected. One cabinet seat is vacant, through the recent death of the minister of agriculture.

Winnipeg.—The official report on the counting of the city vote in the provincial elections shows F. J. Dixon, M.L.A., Labor, and Hon. Thos. Johnson, Liberal, elected on the first count. Ivens, Labor, was elected on the second count, making three certainities. No candidate was elected on the third, fourth or sixth counts, but these were deferred: Gilsdon, Independent-Liberal; Lyman, Independent-Liberal; Turnbull, Conservative; and Holling, Independent.

On the seventh count Lawrence (Conservative), was eliminated, and on the eighth, Johnson (Socialist). The total vote cast in the city was 47,427, the quota necessary for election is 4,312. Dixon received 11,586 seats, and Johnson, 4,386.

Others secured the following votes: George Armstrong, 2,767; Cameron, 2,420; Haig, 1,893; Ivens, 1,928; Queen, 1,253; Mrs. Rogers, 1,541; Russell, 1,535; Tupper, 1,500.

Not in Effect Yet

Montreal.—Word was received here by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association that on information from the department of finance at Ottawa, the stamp tax on promissory notes of exchange, bank overdrafts, and on transfers of stock will not come into effect until the bill now before parliament has been assented to.

Big Wheat Exports

Chicago.—Four million bushels of wheat were exported from Chicago to Europe by lake routes in the last two months, Wm. H. Clair, collector of customs has announced. This was eight times as many bushels as were exported direct last year, the announcement said. Strikes and shortage of railroad cars were given as reasons for the large boat shipments.

Ambassador to Germany

London.—Lord Abernethy, well known as a financier and chairman of the central board of control of liquor traffic, has accepted the ambassadorship to Germany, it has been announced.

MAIN NAVAL ESTIMATES ARE FINALLY PASSED

Hon. Arthur Meighen and Dr. Michael Clark Cross Swords

Ottawa.—The main naval estimate of $30,000, together with the supplementary vote of $17,000, were passed in the house of commons.

In reply to a question and after Sir Robert Borden had undertaken to table the navy correspondence, unless it was of a confidential character, less it was of a confidential character, Hon. C. C. Ballantyne said there was only one cablegram which said that Canada could not accept all the ships Great Britain offered.

Hon. Arthur Meighen crossed swords with Dr. Michael Clark on the former's speech to the effect that the German menace in 1909, and although this has passed away the British empire is still compelled to guard against possible foes. Dr. Clark asked if Mr. Meighen foresaw the general menace which joined forces with Boursas to scrap Canada's naval policy. He asked how Canadian trade routes were to be protected with five warships.

Mr. Mackenzie King threatened to start in the way of proroguing unless the house adjourned after adopting the naval estimates. According to the agreement which he claimed had been arrived at, Hon. Jacques Bureau said there had been an obvious misunderstanding between the two leaders and suggested a compromise by passing confidence motions and leave the other over. This was finally agreed to and the house adjourned.

DEBATE OVER FRANCHISE BILL IN HOUSE

Third Reading Carried After Amendments by Majority of Twenty-Six

Ottawa.—The franchise bill which has occupied the house of commons for a large part of the present session, was passed after several amendments had been adopted. There were several divisions and a brief debate on the opposition amendment which sought to compel newspapers to print the name of advertisers paying for matter published in support of political parties.

Third reading of the bill was finally passed by a majority of 26 after an amendment proposed by A. R. McMaster was defeated by a vote of 86 to 60. Hon. W. A. Buchanan, Leithridge, and F. L. Davis, Neepawa, voted against the government in support of the amendment. The Farmers' party voted against the government.

Mr. McMaster proposed that election advertisements in any form bear the name of the person or organization paying for the advertisement.

Hon. Hugh Guthrie said that evils of election advertisements through public journals, proposed by McMaster. It would be more to the point if newspaper articles bear the signature of the writer.

Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King said that the important thing was that powerful interests be prevented from backing a political party without the knowledge of the public.

Hon. W. S. Fielding had an amendment to refer the bill back to committee with instructions to provide that where there were two or more constituencies vacant by-elections be held on one day. The house declined on the amendment. It was defeated by 77 to 58—a government majority of 19.

Big Riot Damage

Fermy, County Cork.—Damage amounting to hundreds of pounds was caused by rioters and window smashers here. The inhabitants attribute the demonstration to soldiers who left their barracks on hearing of the kidnapping of Brig-General Lucas.

Attempts to burn houses were frustrated.

H. B. Apudmont

Montreal.—The Hudson's Bay company has announced the appointment of H. F. Harman to the position of land commissioner of the company, with headquarters at Winnipeg, vice James Thomson, resigned.

Trammen Refuse To Carry Soldiers

Government is Taking Over Railways In Ireland

Dublin.—Newbridge, County Kildare, is the great military centre serving Curragh, the Aldershot of Ireland, and it was tonight to despatch soldiers thence by a train passing from Kilkenny to Dublin.

The driver refused to carry them and the soldiers remained on the train. Subsequently trains from Athlone and Thurles and Dublin were similarly blocked. The stranded passengers drove to Kildare to catch the through train not stopping at Newbridge. The soldiers have orders to board any train available, so the situation cannot be relieved by the despatch of trains from Dublin. The government has had offers of a score of men from Belfast to operate the trains but has not accepted them. The situation is declared to be serious. The government is taking over the trains and entering upon a general conflict should the drivers persist in refusing to move troops on trains.

Russian Reply Unsatisfactory

Soviet's Attitude Toward Foreign Debt Unacceptable

London.—Krasin, Russian Soviet minister of trade and commerce, had a conference with Premier Lloyd George at the premier's office. The meeting lasted an hour.

The object of Krasin's visit to the Premier was to submit to him the Soviet reply concerning the Soviet's attitude toward the foreign debt and "private property of foreigners expropriated by the Russian government."

It is said that the reply was unsatisfactory and that negotiations would be continued.

Riots in Shanghai

Shanghai.—Labor disorders and strikes are spreading with incipient rioting and looting of food shops in the industrial districts due to the price of rice having mounted to $15.20 a peul (a peul approximates 140 pounds). It is estimated that there is only a four-day supply of rice available.

News of the Provinces

SASKATCHEWAN

The Mennonite Exodus
Swift Current.—While it is expected that a number of Mennonites will depart shortly for the southern States, no general exodus is anticipated, and it is considered probable that the majority of the colony will remain to obey the school laws of the province.

Leaves Saskatoon

Saskatoon.—T. H. Sault, for the last few years editor of the Saskatoon Phoenix, is retiring from that position to become editor of the Grain Growers' Guide at Winnipeg.

Visiting Rural Districts

Regina.—Hon. George Langley, minister of municipal affairs, is visiting several points in the province, addressing a series of public meetings dealing with the work of the different departments and explaining recent enactments.

MANITOBA

Farmers Anticipating Election

Winnipeg.—Organization of the farmers of Canada for the next federal election is to be discussed at a meeting in Winnipeg on July 12 of a special committee of the Canadian council of agriculture.

ALBERTA

To Probe Freight Rates on Coal
Edmonton.—E. Drummond, manager of the Mountain Park coal company, is leaving for Toronto and Ottawa as a commissioner from the Alberta Government and the coal operators' association, to investigate the question of freight rates on coal from Alberta to the eastern markets. His mission is being undertaken at the request also, of the Canadian Manufacturers' association, the coal mining branch of which has been taking an active interest in the possible shipment of western coal to Ontario.

Board of Trade Gathering

Invermere, B. C.—At a meeting of seventy representatives of Boards of Trade from Golden, Windermere, Fort Steele, Cranbrook, Fernie and Creston, the Associated Boards of South Eastern British Columbia was formed for the purpose of promoting the interests of the combined districts.

Ottawa.—After practically an all-day session of the government caucus, Sir Robert Borden intimated his final decision to retire from the leadership and his decision was regretfully accepted by the caucus. No definite name has been announced as his successor.

With announcement of the retirement of Sir Robert Borden definitely from their leadership, and with the consequent necessity of naming a new chief, together with the all-important future policy of the party to be designed, the caucus of government followers following prorogation here will go down to posterity as one of the most momentous and significant in the history of federal politics in Canada.

Standing out with the retirement of Sir Robert was the choice of a new name for the party. There were many suggested, but the honor of being the sponsor for the successful one went to Hon. J. A. Calder, minister of immigration and colonization, whose choice of the "National Liberal and Conservative Party," to be commonly known as the "National Party."

There was no successor to Sir Robert named. Sir Robert has promised to retain his seat in the house and to support his successor to the best of his ability. Among the cabinet ministers there is also an agreement to stand firmly by the man who is ultimately named by the whole of government supporters. Each member of the caucus is to submit a name of his nominee in writing to Sir Robert. Talk around the corridors after the caucus indicated that the two most generally favored are Sir Thomas White and Hon. Arthur Meighen. A significant fact also, is that prior to the general caucus the Liberal Unionists held a gathering in camera and decided to stand by any man chosen by the larger gathering, also to agree to the fusion of the Liberal and Conservative identities. Some members believe that it will be easily possible to maintain the identity of the successor to the party.

Premier Borden's resignation will be accompanied by the resignation of all members of his cabinet. Hon. N. W. Rowell, president Privy Council, has already intimated that he does not feel that his mandate extends to joining with the caucus of a new party and has since tendered his resignation, from the ministry.

BRITISH COLUMBIA

To Tow Rafts to Europe

Victoria, B. C.—Swedish lumbermen have been on the coast successfully investigating the possibility of rafting lumber from British Columbia to Europe. Rafts of large size, called rafanutes, have been successfully towed from the Pacific to Great Britain. It is believed that the huge timbers of the province will possible the construction and successful operation of rafanutes larger than those shipped out of the Baltic, which contain four or five million feet each. The rafting of lumber from the coast will probably contain from 15 to 20 million feet.

Vancouver, B. C.—The Rat Portage Company has sold timber limits containing fire and some cedar on the southwest of Vancouver Island to John W. Blodgett of Grand Rapids, Michigan, for $400,000. A mill will be erected on the property.

Fruit Shipments to Britain Increase

Squamish, B. C.—Apple shipments from the Okanagan Valley to Great Britain during the past season amounted to 320 carloads as compared with only 85 in the best previous year. Inquiries indicate that shipments to Great Britain during the coming year will greatly exceed even this available record. Several large British buyers are on their way to British Columbia, including the representatives of both the English and Scottish Co-operative Societies, who have not previously been interested in the Pacific coast orchard products.

In every locality there are a few men who do a bigger business in their line than any one else. These are sure to be the individuals who look ahead and make definite, practical plans to stimulate business several months in advance. They do not wait until spring to begin to push ahead, nor for hot weather to think of hot weather plans. They are laying the line of their campaign well in advance, and are attracting attention to the goods and service they have to offer.

A manager of a big Canadian mail order house, interviewed last year, declared that wherever it was found there was a real live bunch of merchants in any country town, then they did not waste time, but centered their mail order attention on the next town further along. In a certain town in which there is a branch of the Canadian Credit Men's Association, a number of men met to consider this very subject last spring, in order that they might go after business with a firm enough hand that it would make their town a loving court for the people of the surrounding country, instead of orders going to the mail order house.

KEEP TRADE AT HOME

This group of men had observed that there was a tendency for some of the people to journey to a city some 50 miles away, others sent away to mail order houses; and still others got out in their cars and drove about shopping wherever it happened among the brick, up-to-date places within a radius of thirty miles or so.

It became a problem with the merchants how to get hold of these people and to bring them in the right direction as far as they were concerned.

It was decided to do several things in a co-operative way, and that each man should follow this up with individual attractions and advertising literature of his own, in order to keep the people thoroughly reminded of their own town and its opportunities. Here are some of the things they did, and the plan worked so well during last summer that they plan to repeat something along the same lines this year, giving variety of course, in working out the details.

Every Saturday during the spring and summer was to have a special attraction. This was placed on Saturday, as so many people had a half-day off. During the early season, while the weather was still a little cool, indoor attractions were planned.

There was a course of three Saturday lectures for farmers and those interested in farming from the business standpoint, given by a well known authority. At the same time a well known woman writer gave a demonstration in economical and up-to-date cookery to the women. These attractions were widely advertised.

ENTERTAINING ADVERTISING

About the lecture halls were a good many banners and display cards carrying the advertising of the different firms. They made a point of having each one of these mention but one item, so as not to confuse the people listening to them. They were unconsciously induced by the selling suggestions of these banners and cards which hung before their eyes. The stores all made special efforts to have a handsome window display, and the newspapers for several days before had carried publicity concerning timely offerings.

Another Saturday a Know Your Own Town Pete was held. A large number of windows were given over to displaying the articles and goods manufactured in the place—shoes, rope, silk, carpets, lace curtains, wagons, wooden goods, jewelry, chemicals, toilet articles and others. There was a parade in the afternoon with floats, and several speakers from automobiles enthused the crowd as to the aggregate amount of the payroll of the town, and the opportunities as a home and a buying center. This may not be possible in small towns, but something smaller but equally effective can be substituted.

OUT-OF-DOOR FEATURES
When warm weather came community picnics, band concerts, water sports and all that sort of thing were planned well in advance.

The individual merchants fell in line. More advertising was done in the newspaper, a great deal of direct-by-mail literature was sent out, and reasonable reasons for buying were advanced. It was the principle of the merchants not to make any statements that could not be backed up by facts, yet every one of them was on the alert to get his share of the business which was steadily flocking to town.

The proprietors of the stores scored the market for the best values to offer, and they became better acquainted with the people than ever before, for when lectures or special demonstrations were planned, most of them made a point of

CO-OPERATION WISDOM
If you can get other merchants to co-operate with you, do it! One man's effort does not amount to very much, but a lot of them make a blanket which protects and fertilizes the soil; one leaf is a thing of beauty, but it takes a whole tree of them to give shade; one dewdrop is of no value, but a lot of them make a manna to best beak the storm.

Co-operation means the strength of many. Through co-operation you can make your town a buying center—then it is up to you to do your part to get your share of the good things which are coming your way.

Frank Sanatorium Notes

During the last two weeks' Spr. Pete Acheson (better known as St. Peter) has played all would-be checker players, and having no one else to defeat in the San is looking elsewhere for scalp. Any player of note in The Pass can arrange a game through Jimmy Tindal, as Jimmy is looking for some player to trim Pete. Come, all you checker friends and gladden the heart of the army of aspiring champions, whose hopes have been dashed by the San manual. Jimmy Tindal will be on hand to referee all games, when not occupied distributing His Majesty's mail.

The fine show put on by California girls last Sunday was very much appreciated by everyone, but Capt. Knight and Mr. Denison might give the boys a hint when they intend bringing such a bunch of beauty into the home of the Ancient Order of Langers again. The intense excitement that prevailed during the show left its mark on many. When they came to the scales on Monday morning, Jimmie Tindal was very much affected, losing no less than 1½ pounds. However, most of the boys got wise in time and secreted some stones in their pockets. Sgt.-Major, please note.

Great excitement was caused when Dad MacDonald brought a real trout back to the San. We understand that Dad gave it to one of the slaters for her breakfast. What we would like to know is how on earth did Tiny Marshall get it into his bed after "lighting out" and what did he intend doing with it.

Mr. Ramsey informs us that there is a great demand for the photographs of the bathing girls, which he took behind the San, and all intending purchasers should place their orders at once so as to avoid disappointment.

The San millionaire has had some remarkable success at cribbage lately and is willing to take a corner in any six-handed game in the vicinity. We have been wondering why the gentleman with the awful laugh walks over to the sulphur spring every time a certain blonde lady saunters that way.

Leader Cartwright, of the San orchestra, assures us that his band of musicians are progressing very favorably and hopes to give another concert in the near future.

We cannot let this opportunity pass without saying a word about the San limousine. Much as we appreciate the frequent drives we get, we heartily wish that some genius with an inventive mind would suggest some means whereby the awful bumps one gets while travelling could be avoided. Welfare League committee, please note.

NON-DESCRIBE.

Mrs. J. A. Osborne, of High River, has an interesting story to tell of one of her brooding hens that adopted a family of little pups this spring. At nightfall when it's "time to go to bed," the mother hen clucks and clucks, and immediately the little pups gather under the protesting wings of their kindly disposed adopted mother and remain there for the night. A snapshot has been taken of the hen and pups which bears out the truth of this story.

Is There a Hell?

There is some amusement, if no edification, in noting that at Red Deer there is a warm argument being conducted in the newspaper columns there over the hell question. Some affirm stoutly that there is a literal hell. Others doubt it, and as none of them know anything about it, the argument consequently is all the more heated.

This reminds the Observer of a pious brother who expressed himself thus: It doesn't matter what they preach, Of high or low degree, The old hell of the Bible Is good enough for me! I don't know its location— Can't say just where 'twill be, But the old hell of the Bible Is hell enough for me! 'Twas preached by Paul and Peter— They spread it wide and free: 'Twas hell for old John Bunyan, And it's hell enough for me!

A contention once arose among the members of a church in a certain town in western Pennsylvania when the subscription of the word books for hell was first suggested. The matter came up for discussion at a class meeting, the minister stoutly arguing for hell, but a majority of the brethren apparently being in favor of something milder if they could have it as well as not.

After about a dozen speakers had discussed the subject, old Uncle John Camp stood up. Uncle John was a good man but he had a habit of joking and it was that trait perhaps that made the people always get ready to laugh when he started to talk. Whatever he said was expected to be funny, and whether it really was or not, his hearers invariably roared.

So when Uncle John stood up in the class meeting all the others present got ready to hear something delicious. The old man looked gravely around, carefully buttoned his coat, gave each of his sleeves a little twitch as one does who is about to tackle something very difficult, and after an impressive silence, which seemed longer probably than it really was, said: "Oh, hell!" Then he sat down, and the argument was over for ever in that town. Hades has no place in his vocabulary.—Vergil Observer.

The Country Paper

The old chap who writes these Musings spent over 40 years as the owner of a country newspaper, and naturally he has great sympathy for the boys who are now trying to struggle along and keep out of the sheriff's hands in these days of the high cost of living. It is a question at times whether the country editor is appreciated by the people who think they are conferring a great favor on him by paying a dollar or two dollars a year for the weekly visits of his paper, or give him a small ad. to let their neighbors know how cheap they sell goods, even in these "over top" times. Do they ever think that the home paper gives each year from $50 to $1,000 in free advertising to the community in which it is published. The editor, in proportion to his means, does more for the town in which he lives than any other down men, and in all fairness he ought to be supported—not because you like him or admire the interesting way in which he tells the current history of the town. Is there a child born, has Johnny or Jenny developed as a scholar in literature or music, is there a wedding in the family, or sad to tell, is there a death; who is it that can so kindly tell the story as the country editor? The Bugle Horn of Liberty may not be brilliantly edited or crowded with high-falootin' thought, but financially it is of more benefit to the community than the preacher or the teacher. Understand me, I do not mean mentally, yet on moral questions you will find most of the papers in city or country on the right side. Today the editors of city and country papers do the most for the least money in the community in which they are published of any people on earth.—Hamilton Spectator.

Clogged Nostrils Open Breathing Made Easy, Catarrh Cured

New Method Very Successful

It is a new method of treatment, that of medicated air, and cannot fail to be beneficial. It goes wherever air can go, thus reaching all the affected parts. It purifies as by fire, simply turning up the disease germs. Catarrh is a K. non-podous, and healing agent, it therefore acts upon the mucous tissues of the throat, nasal passages, and bronchial tubes, destroying all microbe life, and at the same time heals up all the inflamed parts.

As a cure for Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, La Grippe, as a strengthener for the throat, Catarrh is not to be equalled. It is a guaranteed cure, and is highly endorsed by prominent physicians who use Catarrh in their practice.

Sufficient Catarrh for two months' use, price $1.00 smaller size 50c, at all dealers.

Love of The Wild

—BY—

ARCHIE P. McKISHNIE

Printed by Special Arrangements with The Allen, Toronto, Ont.

Far over the pines of the Point another dark bunch would grow into space, and, turning, throw a gleam of white upon the watcher's sight. These were blue-bills, hardest of all the wild-geese. They were tired and yet afraid and ready to make friends with any water-fowl, whether they were of their own kind or a flock of despised cack. Great flocks of peerless canvas-backs, their wings dipping in unison, their white backs gleaming in the morning light, would grow up and fade and grow to life again. They would sweep around and around the bay, craning their long necks suspiciously, settling ever lower, and passing near a flock of downy ruddy ducks, that were resting, having fed long before the dawn of day.

Boy would watch these wild, free things with all the joy of a wild, sympathy with them. As far as the could reach were ducks and beyond the bay was the wild Point, and above all the wild sky with angry darts of light like ranged knives, slashing its breast here and there.

Naturally Boy resented the advance of anything tended to destroy the pictures of his world.

A big man, from civilization, who owned the strip of timber across the creek, had built a mill there, and all day long now, that mill sang its song of derision and the swaths in the wood were growing wider. It was his own timber the man was cutting, nobody could gainsay that fact; but he was destroying, each day, the creek, that silver thread that had been for so long a home for duck and mink and water-cats. He was destroying beauty and crippling the usefulness of the best trapping and fishing ground of the Bushwackers. A discord had been set vibrating throughout that wooded fastness.

The sibilant song of Hallibut's mill was driving the bird and fishing animals to seek more secluded haunts. The wood-ducks that had nested close in along the wooded shore, drifted far back to another creek, and the black ducks did not flutter lazily along the marsh throughout the breeding season now, but high in the air and remote from the noise and smoke and jar that was a new and fearful thing to them.

Boy McTavish hated that mill; and that schoolhouse of white boards clinging to the hill he hated, too. Hatred was a strange element with him. It sickened his soul, crushed him, and robbed him of all his old-time restfulness of spirit. The discord could not pass him by.

CHAPTER V.

Even in this golden, hazy dawn it was with him, as he stood going across the creek. The crimson sun warmed his cheeks and the heavy scent of over-ripe woods-plants stole to him like a soothing balm. But that scar upon which eyes rested had reached his inmost soul, and for him the old gladness of sweet, dewy mornings must hereafter be tempered with a new and strange bitterness.

From the tall smokestack of Hallibut's mill a thin wreath of smoke ascending cut a spiral figure against the fleecy clouds.

Boy turned and walked up the path with his head bowed and his hands deep in his pockets. Behind him trailed the setter, looking neither to the right nor the left. His moods were always suited to his master's. For some reason Boy was sad. When the path forked Boy turned, and catching sight of the dog's wistful face, he threw back his head and laughed. Then he turned, and, bending caught the setter about the neck with strong arms.

"Joe," he whispered, "you're an old fool."

The dog submitted to the caress gravely and sat down, looking up into his master's face with deep sympathetic eyes.

Adown through the woods came a voice, in rollicking song:

"Massar gone away, de darkey say 'Hol hol'!"
"Must be now dat de kingdom's comin'!" de de ar ob jubilee."

"That's Bill, pup," laughed Boy. "He always sings when he's washin' his breakfast dishes. Come on, let's go over and borrow his pitchfork. You and me have got to dig tater's today."

A few hundred yards further on they found the singer. He was clad in Bushwacker buckskins from head to foot.

"Hello, Boy, how's your ma?" he called as he caught sight of the visitors.

"Just about the same, I guess," Boy answered. "Nobody up when I left, so I can't say how ma spent the night. Want to borrow your fork, Bill?"

"Take it an' anything else you see as you'd like. Say, won't you step in the house and have a cup of tea?"

"I ain't much on tea drinkin'," as you know, Bill, and I must be hittin' the trail back soon, 'cause we want to get the taters dug before night."

"All right, as soon as I put these dishes away I'll get you the fork."

Boy's eyes followed his friend sympathetically, and when Paisley rejoined him he asked hesitatingly:

"Say, Bill, why do you live alone here like you do? Ain't it lonesome for you?"

"Some. Paisley dried his hands on a towel and sat down on a stump. "It's some lonesome; but I've sort of got used to it you see."

Boy seated himself on a log and leaned back, nursing his knee in his arms.

"How about Mary Ann?" he asked. Bill shook his head.

"Too good and too young for me, Boy. She don't just think me her style I guess. That young teacher chap, now, he is just about Mary Ann's style."

Boy's eyes narrowed.

"He's just about Gloss's style, too," he said slowly. "He's some different from us bush-fellers, is Mr. Simpson?"

"I don't take to him very well myself," said Paisley, looking away. "But of course, Mary Ann's bound to see him a lot, him boardin' at her mother's, and maybe he'll see as he can't afford to miss gettin' a girl like Mary Ann, pervidin' she's willin'."

"How many times have you asked her, Bill?"

"Twice a year—every spring and fall, for the past three years."

Paisley laughed queerly and stooped down to pat the setter's shaggy sides.

"Boy," he said, "don't ever get carin' for a woman, it's hell."

Boy leaned back with a deep breath. His eyes were on a tiny wreath of smoke drifting between the tree-tops and the sky.

"I ask her twice a year regular," he said to Paisley. "It's got to be a custom now. I'll soon be time to ask her again."

A yellow-hammer swooped across the open and, alighting on a decayed stump, began to grub out a breakfast.

He was a gay, mottled-breasted chap, with a dash of crimson on his head. The drab-colored thrush that had been preening himself on a branch of a nearby tree ruffled his feathers and flew further back into the bush.

Boy frowned at the intruder and rose slowly from his log. He glanced up at dead Paisley looking at him.

"Something's wrong with you, Boy," said the man; "what is it?"

"I was watchin' them birds," Boy answered. "You saw what the big, greedy chap did to the thrush—he drove him away; and it made me think of what Hallibut and his agents are tryin' to do with us Bushwackers."

"They can't do it," cried Paisley, "just let 'em try it."

"Hallibut threatens that he'll own all this part of the country. He's too much of a coward to come over and try to get it himself, but he's tryin' to get it through others, as you know."

No Restrictions Against Trade With Russians

Understood That Several Contracts Have Been Made in Canada

Reading from an article in the Montreal Gazette, Joseph Archambault (Chamby Vercheres), asked the government regarding status of trade between Canada and Soviet Russia.

He quoted the newspaper as stating that C. A. Y. Martens, representative of the Soviet government in the U.S. had said that millions of dollars in contracts for food, machinery and clothing had been closed between Canadians and Soviet Russia.

Mr. Archambault asked if trade had been resumed with Russia, was the government aware of these contracts having been made, and was it a fact that Premier Lloyd George and Gregory Krasin were instrumental in arranging these contracts?

Sir George Foster replied that there were no restrictions against trading with Russians, but Canadians were not given any more facilities there than elsewhere. He knew nothing of the proposed negotiations, but officially it had been stated that considerable contracts had been closed between Canadians and Russians.

King Holds A Reception For Three Hundred and Fifty Victoria Cross Men

King George recently entertained at a garden party 350 men who have won the Victoria Cross in campaigns. The men marched to Buckingham Palace from Wellington barracks and were joined a few minutes later by relatives and friends.

The men were arranged in groups according to seniority without regard to rank and each was then presented to the King. The list of names included many that will live long in British history, from Captain Carpenter of the Vendictive, which attacked Zebrugg and Ostend, down to drivers who saved guns, Le Cateau, Private Lyon, who won the Victoria Cross, the D.C.M., and the Cross of St. George and then was killed, was represented by his fiancée.

Horse Not Yet Out of Date

Auto Tractor and Tractors Have Not Yet Put the Horse Out

In Illinois, an association has been formed which will spend $250,000 in the next three years, in advertising the economic value of the horse. In Denver, on the other hand, the authorities are considering an ordinance to prohibit the use of horses on the streets. But the horse goes on his feet, regardless. He is not doomed but on the increase, according to figures announced at recent convention of the retail harness makers of Iowa.

It was found that there are 26,000, 000 horses in the United States, one for every four of the population, and curiously, that the number of horses has increased in the very states where the automobiles and tractors have been heaviest. In 1919 there were 20,000 more horses on the farms than in 1917. The farmer is using the automobile and the tractor, but apparently he needs just as many horses as he ever did, if not more.

Lightning Rods A Great Protection

Apparatus Should be Examined Frequently for Defects

Warning has been given in an official government document to the owners of premises protected by lightning rods from fire through electric storms, to examine the apparatus for certain kinds of defects which might render it useless when an emergency arises. Lightning rods have proved an almost absolute protection in cases where they have failed. It is usually found that the failure was due to defects in installation or to deterioration, which would have been discovered and repaired by systematic inspection. The most frequent faults are broken insulators, or bends in the cable which allow contact with the framework, or corrosion at the point of entry into the earth. The latter, it is pointed out, is a very important thing. The electricity is carried into the ground by means of the cable, but if the cable corrodes and the ground connection is thereby broken, a fire is very liable to result. The cable should be kept in a sound condition at all times, and be placed deep enough in the ground to always be in damp earth. When building wire fences it is advisable to use ground wires every five rods. Lightning is attracted by wire fencing, and as during a storm animals will congregate near fences, many of them are killed by contact with the wire.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

Protecting Trees

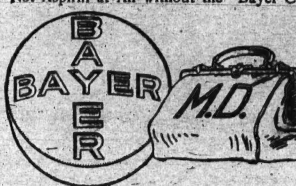

Winnipeg Records Show That 110,000 Trees Have Been Planted

Winnipeg has passed special ordinances to protect trees. It is an offense for persons other than authorized officials to tamper with them. Residential sections of Winnipeg are gradually becoming park-like stretches shaded by large trees. The city records show that 110,000 trees have been planted within the city limits, including the parks. Of this number 75,000 are on the streets. The parks board, which has jurisdiction over the boulevards, has planted 28,000 trees along the 120 miles of street so beautified, the total cost for tree planting being $26,000. Property owners have been responsible for the planting of 447,000 more trees on the boulevards in front of their residences.

Capt. Beebe arrived the early part of the week from Portland, Oregon, where he attended the big Shriners convention and the Oregon rose festival.

Do you know of any exceptions to the rule that all successful merchants are advertisers? And have you noticed that the most successful merchants make the largest use of newspaper space.

A meeting of the citizens was called last week end to arrange a date for a field day in Blairmore. The date suggested was July 19th, better known as Peace Day, but on approaching the heads of different industries it was found that there could be little chance of tying up industry for the sake of a day of sports, for at least some time. In all likelihood a date in August will be arranged for, which will closely connect, but not conflict with the Chautauqua period.

A very pleasant social evening was spent recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Warner, when the local dramatic troupe tendered their appreciation to Mrs. Warner for the valuable services rendered by her in connection with costumes arranged for "The Minister's Bride." About forty people were present, Ephraim Snellgrove being the only absentee. Following luncheon and a merry social chat, Mr. Hamilton, on behalf of the raiders, in a neat speech presented Mrs. Warner with a beautiful jardiniere. Mrs. Warner, in accepting the gift, stated that it had been a source of pleasure to her to have the opportunity of assisting the dramatists and hoped that in future the troupe would never be backward in calling upon her to do her share.

The committee in charge of the Pincher Creek Dominion Day sports regret that some disappointment was caused patrons from the Crow's Nest Pass, who had hoped to see the aeroplane flights during the afternoon, but explain that arrangements made with the flyers were that they should be present to do stunt flying for a certain period and be privileged to carry passengers. The flyers were rushed back to Calgary earlier than expected and the Pincher Creek committee should not receive all the blame. Every effort was made by the committee, backed by the citizens of Pincher Creek and district, to make the affair a success, and despite a few disappointments, everything went off smoothly and satisfactorily.

A number of Frank folks assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Donkin on Tuesday night last and surprised them with the presentation of a beautiful and costly divanette. The presentation spokesman was Mr. J. J. Murray. His speech was about full of pep, or pop, and was accompanied by the party's best wishes for a long, happy and prosperous life.

Service was conducted at the local Anglican church on Sunday morning last by Rev. Archdeacon Hayne, of Calgary, assisted by Rev. MacMichael, of Pincher Creek. The Sacrament of Holy Communion was administered during the service.

A theatre, seating 2500, four hundred kitchenettes for those who wish to cook their own meals and one sixteen-story unit for bachelors are features. A minimum charge of $15 a day is contemplated.

The luxury tax is bringing in a half million dollars per day, which is a considerable amount for Canada.

We regret to learn that Mrs. Dan May is confined to her bed through illness.

At the regular meeting of the town council to-night the town mill rate was set at 55.

The officers of the local Odd fellows and Rebekah lodges will be installed on Thursday night of next week. The E-campment of officers will be installed same night.

Letters of introduction to Police Magistrate Burrell will be handed to members of the Bootleggers' Association to-morrow (Friday) by the Alberta provincial police, and receptions will be held at Blairmore and Coleman.

An electric washing machine being operated for demonstration in an Edmonton store last week incited the curiosity of a six-year-old boy. Displaying child-like delight and animosity in the strange contrivance, the youngster inserted a nickel between the rollers, just to see how it would work. The child's arm became caught in the rollers and before the machine could be stopped the boy's arm had been drawn in to the shoulder, but on extrication it was found that beyond a little bruising, no serious injury resulted.
